Our Power to Bless One Another

In the parched deserts of postmodernity a blessing can be like the discovery of a fresh well.

It would be lovely if we could rediscover our power to bless one another. I believe each of us can bless.

When a blessing is invoked, it changes the atmosphere.

Some of the plenitude flows into our hearts from the invisible neighbourhood of loving kindness.

In the light and reverence of blessing, a person or situation becomes illuminated in a completely new way.

In a dead wall a new window opens, in dense darkness a path starts to glimmer, and into a broken heart healing falls like morning dew.

It is ironic that so often we continue to live like paupers though our inheritance of spirit is so vast.

The quiet eternal that dwells in our souls is silent and subtle; in the activity of blessing it emerges to embrace and nurture us.

Let us begin to learn how to bless one another.

Whenever you give a blessing, a blessing returns to enfold you.

Monteverdi is one of the most profoundly significant composers of all time, a key figure linking the Renaissance and the Baroque era. We celebrate his 450th birthday this year with his characteristically buoyant and intense music. Lauridsen's appealing and timeless music makes him one of the most widely performed and popular composers of the present day. Parking available from 2.30pm. Tickets $30/$25 available at the door.
